ENRICHING EXPERIENCES FOR OUR GUESTS AND OUR ENVIRONMENT

We believe that a responsible meeting is not only what you experience in the meeting room but also knowing that your hotel respects the destination around it.

We're proud to partner the leaders in geotourism, the National Geographic Center for Sustainable Destinations. Our ambition is that guests enjoy enriching experiences that reveal what makes a place truly special – its heritage, culture and tradition – and the importance of protecting it.

At InterContinental we use a holistic approach to being a responsible business: to work from the grass roots up, recognising each individual hotel team as the experts best placed to use their local knowledge for developing community and environmental initiatives that meet the specific needs of the destination. This Insider Collection gives delegates access to some of these unique experiences, and for those meetings that stay in the meeting room, you can be assured our hotel is working behind the scenes to protect what is special about the place for fellow travellers.

SPEND PART OF YOUR MEETING AT THE NATIONAL PALACE OF CULTURE

One of the great achievements of Guatemalan architecture, the National Palace of Culture is a magnificent venue for a gala reception or formal dinner.

Here delegates can admire the great artists of the 40s: Alfredo Gálvez Suárez murals, stained glass by Urruela July Vasquez and his associates, Guillermo Grajeda Mena, Dagoberto Vasquez, Roberto Gonzalez Goyri, as well as decorations by Rudolph Galeotti Torres and Carlos Rigalt.

As the most important building in Guatemala, all roads lead to and from the Palace, which is now a national museum. It is also the seat of government and home to the famous 'hands of peace' monument. Your delegates cannot fail but be mesmerized by the splendor and beauty of this amazing location.

VISIT THE SPLENDID LA MERCED CHURCH

Take time out of your meeting to visit the wonderful La Merced Church in the heart of Guatemala City's historic center. This ancient church with its imposing colonial architecture and warm yellow baroque exterior was completed in the early nineteenth Century.

During their visit, delegates will be able to admire some of Guatemala's most precious works of art, whose best expressions can be seen in the altar pieces, sculptures such as Our Lady of Las Mercedes, paintings, textiles and other objects that make up the religious heritage of this sacred site.

MEET THE DREAM MAKER EXTRAORDINAIRE

Adventurer, traveler, super-athlete and dreamer, Juan Carlos Sagastume, will treat your delegates to an inspiring presentation of his amazing life so far.

Juan believes we have to be actors in life, not just observers. And he practices what he preaches.

In 2006 he became the first Latin American to cross the Atlantic in a rowing boat after sailing for 64 days, 13 hours and 16 minutes, covering a distance of 5,280 miles. At 19 he cycled 6,500km around Europe in 85 days. In his next adventure he plans to speed scale all 37 volcanoes in Guatemala in just 10 days.

Using personal anecdotes from his life experiences, Juan will talk to your delegates about the importance of teamwork, leadership, communication, respect, perseverance, self-belief and effort to achieve your goals. ◀

SUPPORT THE LOCAL COMMUNITY – HELP OUR SENIORS

Your delegates are invited to do something worthwhile for the community and rewarding for them by volunteering for the day at a home for the elderly in the local area.

Cabecitas de Algodón is a charitable organization that runs two home-from-homes for terminally ill and homeless seniors. Delegates can interact with the older people, join in with their activities and hear their life stories.

Your organization will also have the opportunity to make a financial contribution to help in the creation of a desperately needed third home, as there is currently a very long waiting list of homeless seniors in need of a permanent place to live.

CREATE YOUR OWN GUATEMALAN KNITWEAR

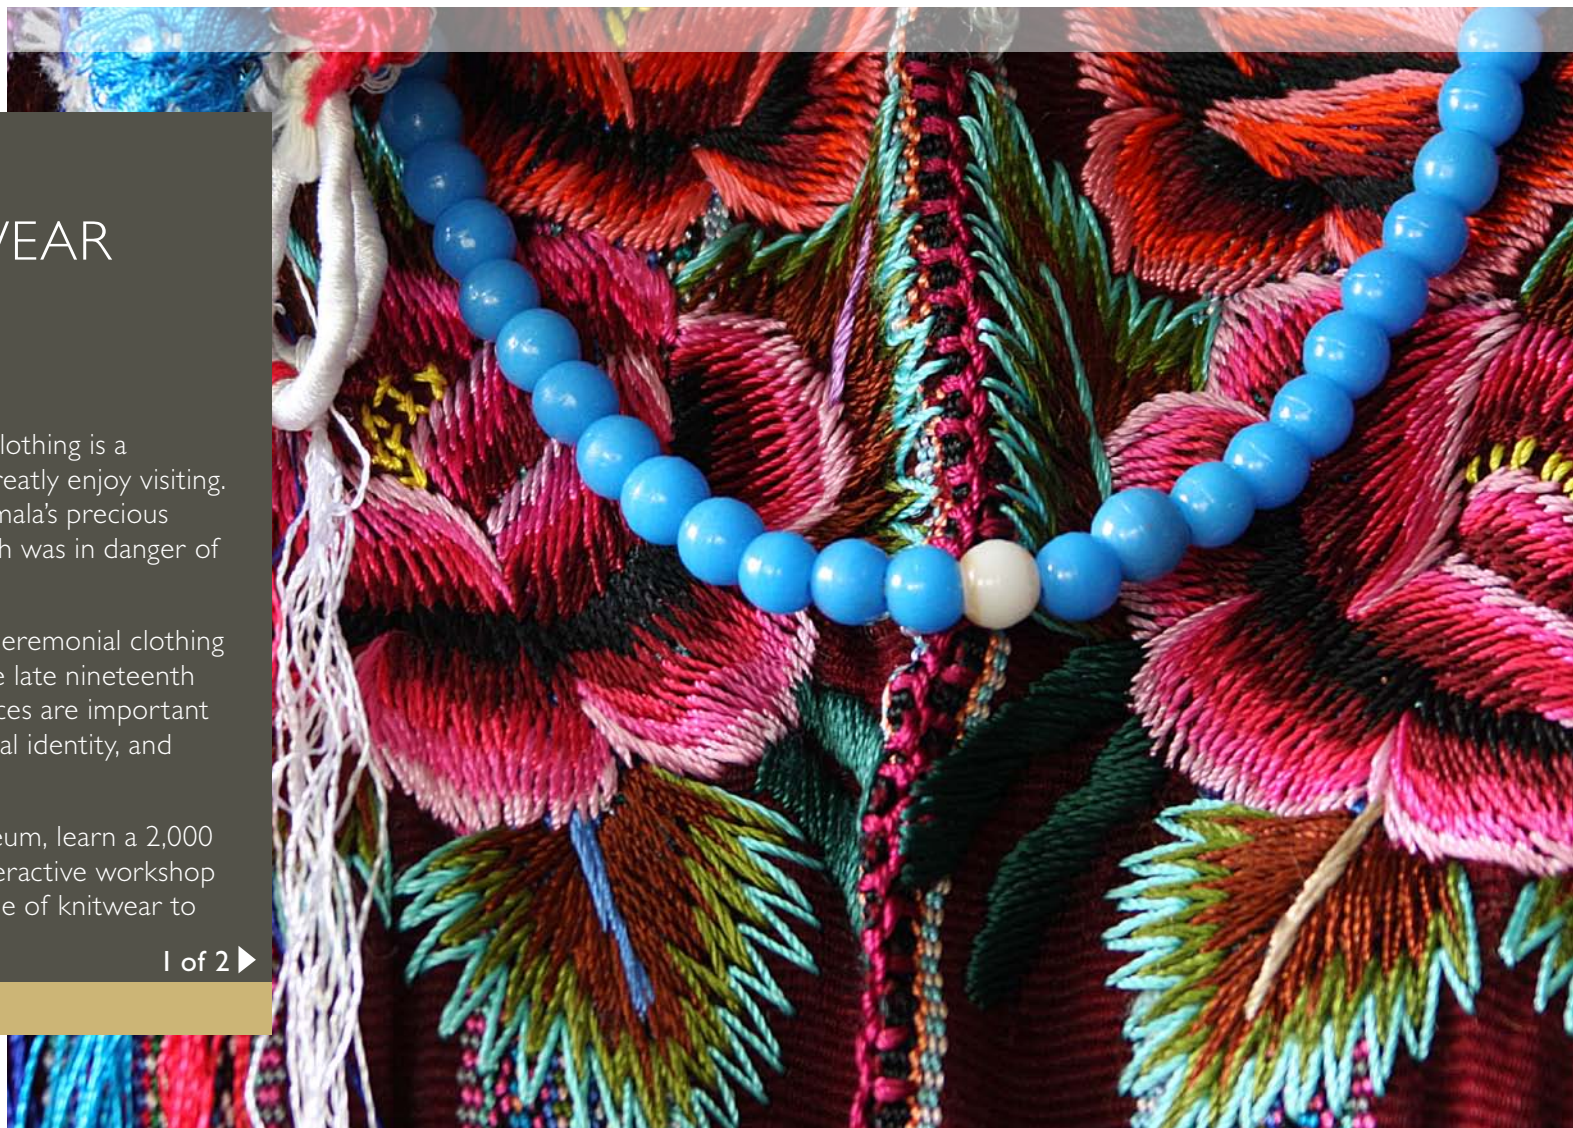

The Ixel Museum of Indigenous Textiles and Clothing is a fascinating place and one your delegates will greatly enjoy visiting. The museum was founded to preserve Guatemala's precious indigenous heritage and culture, much of which was in danger of eroding away.

The main collection consists of everyday and ceremonial clothing and a diverse range of textiles, dating from the late nineteenth and early twentieth Century to today. The pieces are important and irreplaceable examples of local and regional identity, and originate from 156 different communities.

Delegates can enjoy a guided tour of the museum, learn a 2,000 year-old art of weaving and take part in an interactive workshop where they can make their own individual piece of knitwear to take home with them as a personal souvenir.

DISCOVER ANTIGUA AND GUATEMALA'S EXOTIC PAST

To visit the city of Antigua is to enter a world suspended in time. Just 45kms from Guatemala City, it was once the third capital established by the Spaniards in 1543. Despite being stripped of its capital status following the earthquake of 1773, echoes of its rich colonial past still remain and today it is one of Guatemala's major tourist attractions.

Of immense historical and cultural value, it was designated a UNESCO 'World Heritage Site' in 1979.

Delegates can enjoy a cultural tour of many of the places of interest including the General's Palace, City Hall, San José Church, the Archbishop's Palace and the Portal of Commerce (o de las Panaderas). In the center of the plaza, nestles The Mermaid's Fountain. The perfect place to stop for a coffee and watch the world go by.
