HELP BRING THE MUSIC BACK TO NEW ORLEANS

Enjoy a productive group activity building houses for musicians made homeless by Hurricanes Katrina and Rita.

Habitat for Humanity is a voluntary organisation that seeks to eliminate poverty housing and homelessness. They welcome volunteers to help with local projects, which include the innovative 'Musicians' Village'.

Many musicians had to flee New Orleans when the hurricanes hit and jazz, blues, and other genres that are the city's musical score, cannot return until the musicians do. The Musicians' Village will provide local musicians and their families with the opportunity to be part of a thriving community again. Just imagine your team's satisfaction at helping to bring the 'music masters' back to their spiritual home.

EXPLORE THE LOUISIANA SWAMPLANDS BY AIRBOAT

For the ultimate team-building event, exploring the wildlife-rich swamplands around New Orleans by high-speed airboat is hard to beat. All sizes of group can be catered for, and your delegates will be treated to an 'off the beaten track' view of this amazing world.

Each airboat will be assigned a local guide with intimate knowledge of the area and its exotic array of wildlife. With 200,000 private acres to explore, you can marvel open-mouthed at huge alligators, magnificent hawks, egrets and owls.

Part of the experience also includes the chance of up close and personal wildlife encounters – like holding baby alligators and face-to-face meetings with shy nutrias (a kind of beaver crossed with a mouse). ADD A DELICIOUS TWIST TO YOUR COFFEE BREAK

Get a true flavour of local New Orleans fare during your coffee break with a King cake taster session. Imported during colonial times to the southern states from France and Spain, King cake parties have been celebrated in New Orleans since the eighteenth century.

There are a variety of styles of this Mardi Gras staple. From the most simple – a ring of twisted bread topped with icing or sugar, usually colored purple, green, and gold (the traditional Carnival colors) – to filled varieties, the most popular being cream cheese and praline.

During your coffee-break you will taste what is arguably the best King Cake in New Orleans – an InterContinental recipe based on original ingredients and it includes a few surprises... but watch out! According to New Orleans tradition, whoever finds the trinket must provide the next King cake.

ENJOY SWEET SUCCESS WITH NEW ORLEANS ROMAN CANDY

Roman Candy is a wonderful New Orleans tradition, originally started by an enterprising local grocer who took to the streets to sell his wares on the back of a mule wagon. During your coffee-break you will be able to sample some fine New Orleans Roman Candy to give you and your guests an authentic taste of New Orleans and its long and rich history.

What started as a simple family treat stretching back four generations became the famous Roman Candy Company – loved by the young and old of New Orleans ever since. Roman Candy initially sold for 5 cents a stick and could still be bought for that right up until 1970. The famous Roman Candy wagon and mule can still be spotted today gently ambling through the streets of New Orleans bringing a little sweetness and happiness to everyone it meets.
